Walk the Talk

Job's Daughters Curbside Cuisine

Curbside Cuisine is layered with multiple individual and group learning experiences with many meaningful takeaways for each girl to depart with and build upon for themselves.

Each girl will be assigned to a Curbside Cuisine group, aka a food truck team. Curbside Cuisine kicks-off with a full group game to get everyone up and moving with a little competition out of the gate which flows directly into the main event where...

- *Each team will receive all the non-food and food supplies needed to complete the tasks outlined for them.

- *Designated by the facilitators, Curbside Cuisine station assignments will determine what signature food each team will prepare.

- *Teams will work together to create their food truck name and branding which will incorporate their assigned food truck food item.

- *A food truck façade will be constructed by each team as well as a menu board plus any signage, marketing piece or other items needed to be developed as determined by the respective teams.

- *The designated serving quantity of their signature food truck cuisine will be prepared to be sold and eaten for lunch.

- *Each team will present all aspects of their food truck following the guidelines to the full group. The team presentation will follow a format and will include a 30-second commercial. Elements of learning goals will be woven into the team tasks and final presentations.

Following the presentations and the food truck lunch, all girls will vote. Teams will be awarded People's Choice awards for the various categories as well as those awards selected by the judges.
